

Kampala City- Full Day Tour

Overview

Having gained independence in 1962 after the British handed over power to Sir Apollo Milton Obote, Uganda had its capital city changed from Entebbe to Kampala. Once known as the city of seven hills, Kampala now spans over 20 hills. Kampala is the capital city and largest city in Uganda. It has an abundance of vegetation scattered in its parks, gardens, and recreational areas. Kampala city has thus grown over the years into a center for business excellence with modern infrastructural setups, hotels, administrative blocks, modern places of worship, and Centers of academic excellence being set up.

This one-day Kampala City tour thus offers one an opportunity to see the highlights of Uganda`s Capital city during your stay in Uganda. It gives you an insight into Uganda`s cultural sites, Religious structures, and business setups such as both up and downtown markets, administrative buildings, transportation modes, general infrastructural layouts, meals, hotels, and academic centers, as well as the religious, political and economic history of the pearl of Africa.
